

Celebration evening at KPMG

Mosaic's committed mentors, teachers and supporters gathered at KPMG Birmingham to celebrate their achievements across the West Midlands region.

Attendees spanned across Mosaic's four mentoring programmes with people community from across the region to attend the event, which was held at KPMG's offices. Amongst the guests were key note speakers Shabir Nawab, the WM RLG Chairman and Andy Argyle, partner at KPMG Birmingham.

The evening provided Mosaic's supporters and mentors with an opportunity to network, meeting other likeminded individuals whilst sharing their experiences. It also recognised the hard work and commitment of the mentors and the positive contribution they have on the children they work with.

Washwood Heath Academy's Junior Mosaic Mentors attended the evening. They are now part of the programme helping students who have started their journey on the Mosaic programme. The Junior Mosaic Mentors help the students in many ways including helping the young people to improve their organizational skills, strengthen their communication abilities and provide them with a stage to unveil coherence and articulatory.

Attending the celebration evening was a chance for Washwood Heath Academy's Junior Mosaic Mentors to network and socialise with professionals.

"I really enjoyed my evening at KPMG; it was a new environment for me. It was a chance for me to interact with professional individuals that I do not encounter with on a daily basis. At first I was quite nervous being out of my comfort zone. I found it difficult to start a conversation; however once I had spoken to a few people I began to enjoy it. Having my mentor with me really helped me feel more comfortable when interacting with unfamiliar faces. I found the evening inspiring and would love to have more opportunities to attend networking events."
